• Central is an application you use on a browser to coordinate your work.

• You can add users and create teams.

• You can create tasks like sticky notes – To Do, In Progress, Complete.

• You can upload Flare projects, and it’s super easy to build and publish from there.

• It’s especially good for Flare users who don’t have the resources to set up their own source control or publish output.
New to Central

- Project Checklists
- Custom Vanity URL Enhancements
- Support for Project Linking
Create checklists for work related to your Flare projects
For example: Topic “To Do,” Product Release
Can be integrated with Flare files
See charts showing progress as your work
Vanity URLs

• Previously, only one vanity URL (license)
• Now, vanity URL for target (replaces auto-generated ID)
• Vanity URL on individual builds (lets you have multiple builds per target set to “Live”)
• Private URL for all builds (lets you share output with only people on your license)
• Exclude certain builds from search engines
Project Linking Support

- Global Project Linking
- Runtime Merging
- Multilingual Output
Let’s Look at Central...
